Who we are

The WCTU (Womens's Christian Temperance Union) is the oldest continuing non-sectarian women's organisation in the world. It is a charter member in the United Nations Non-Governmental Organisations.

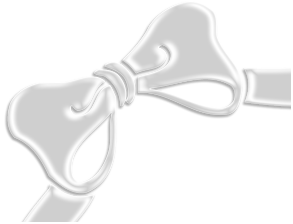

It was formally organised in 1874 at Ohio. The New Zealand Union was formed in 1885. The WCTU was organised by women who were concerned about the destructive power of alcohol and the problems it was causing their families and society.

WCTU members choose total abstinence from alcohol, tobacco and illegal drugs as their lifestyle and they adopted this definition of temperance:

Temperance may be defined as:

Moderation in all things healthful; total abstinence from all things harmful.

- Xenophon (Greek philosopher), c. 400 BCE

The white ribbon bow was selected to symbolise personal purity of life, including total abstinence from the use of alcohol and all illegal narcotics.

New Zealand

The NZWCTU have a proud history of involvement in social justice, policy and welfare issues that affect all New Zealand citizens and families. Currently alcohol and other drug use is a major cause of concern in our society and we invite you to help us protect our homes and families from the power and influence of international manufacturing conglomerates. By becoming a part of this movement, you will benefit from all that the WCTU lifestyle has to offer and help to make a difference in the community around you through raising awareness, (eg Fetal Alcohol Syndrome Disorder); participation in central and local government policy development and supporting community action.

Suffrage

Kate Sheppard (1847-1934), WCTU franchise leader lead the women to petition parliament for the vote.

Finally on the 19th September 1893 New Zealand women were the first in the world to gain the right to vote in National elections.

Members of Parliament who had supported the cause were presented with a white camellia by the WCTU which is now the international symbol for women's suffrage.

Aims & Objectives

Women throughout the world have joined together:

- To foster a belief in and love for God
